Mrs. Inge spent life helping others

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — Wilma Inge was a doer, not just a talker.

"My mom had always been someone who wanted to improve situations for everybody," said Mrs. Inge's youngest daughter, Mary Jo Von Ewegen.

Mrs. Inge, 74, died Tuesday, Aug. 26, at Cameron Memorial Community Hospital in Angola. She had been in failing health for several years.

"She had two pretty bad heart attacks in June of last year, and she just had one this past week," Mary Jo said. "She also dealt with emphysema and heart disease for a long time."

Some of Mrs. Inge's greatest passions in life, Mary Jo said, were politics and political issues. She was Columbiana County Democratic chairwoman and an East Palestine City Council member in Ohio, and a mayoral candidate for the city of East Palestine, Ohio. She worked to improve conditions for her fellow citizens, and tackled many controversial issues during her life.

"Something I remember from when I was growing up was that there wasn't really a whole lot for us kids to do in our hometown," Mary Jo said.

Mrs. Inge

"She was involved in trying to get a bike trail started there."

As she got older, Mrs. Inge became an advocate for senior citizens' rights.

"She thought Social Security should cover prescriptions, because Medicare is so hard to qualify for," Mary Jo said.

Being a voice for many was "just her bag," Mary Jo said with a chuckle.

As a career, Mrs. Inge sold real estate and managed residential lake properties for many years, and then managed housing for low-income elderly people in Bowling Green, Ohio.

After she moved to Angola, she wrote a weekly column for the Herald-Republican called "The Squeaky Inge." The column dealt with senior citizens' issues.

"She really enjoyed writing that column," Mary Jo said. "People called and called her about it, asking her to write about this or that. And she usually would."

Mrs. Inge is also survived by a son, Mark Whan. She is the grandmother of 13, and a great-grandmother to 26. Mary Jo said family was always important to her mother.

"She loved the grandkids and the great-grandkids," she said. "Our house was always open. Everyone came; they brought their kids, their boyfriends, their girlfriends, their dogs. She loved it."

Because of her health, Mrs. Inge had been living with her daughter for several years. Mary Jo said even though she was ill, her mother was always helping.

"She'd have suppe started when I got home, Mary Jo remembered. "Sh was such an independen lady. And when it went fro her helping me to me havin to help her ... it was just s hard for her to depend o other people to do he cleaning and cook her meal for her. Those were thing she had always done fo herself."

When her mother passed Mary Jo said, it was on he own terms.

"She was so tired," sh said. "She told the family — and her doctors — that sh was ready to go. And the las thing she told us was that sh loved us."

Mary Jo said her mothe didn't want a funeral. The family, she said, spent the weekend remembering thei mother and grandmothe with happiness.

"She didn't want all of us to get together and boo-hoo," she said. "She wanted us to get together and celebrate her life rather than mourn her passing."

Man helped kids through Kiwanis, scouts

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

AUBURN — Lionel Silvarman, who died at his home on Aug. 20, at the age of 71, left many legacies.

To fellow Kiwanians, it was a love of service and dedication to helping others; to hundreds of young children, it was a love of Scouting and of horses.

To one friend, it was a love of bridge.

"Lionel was a heck of a good bridge player, and he was always giving me hell because he said I played wrong," said Ken Wilcoxson, who knew Mr. Silvarman for some 12 years.

"We went to a lot of Kiwanis conventions together, and when there wasn't something going on, we were playing bridge," Wilcoxson said.

Mr. Silvarman

Wilcoxson noted that Mr. Silvarman had a long love for Scouting, and had served Boy Scouts in a number of capacities in California.

He was also a Mason and a Shriner.

Mr. Silvarman was a past president of Auburn Kiwanis, and a lieutenant governor of the state organization. One of his last projects was helping to charter the new Garrett Kiwanis Club, something he had also done in Avilla and LaGrange, said Dr. David Painter, a friend and fellow Kiwanian.

"He helped with all the Kiwanis projects," Painter said. "He did a lot for the club, and a lot for the kids that are helped through Kiwanis. He always said, 'It's all about the kids.'"

Mr. Silvarman established the Horse Center south of Auburn after moving here from California. He came with two horses and new friends were soon lodging horses at his stable and acreage, according to Terri Smith, who first met Mr. Silvarman as a customer, but later worked for him.

She said boarders soon were asking him for supplies, which led to a small tack shop. The endeavor ultimately led to tack and clothing stores in Fort Wayne and in Michigan, Smith said.

"We offered riding lessons, held weekly camps in the summer to teach kids from the ground up, starting with how to approach a horse and groom it, and ending with fun shows, so the kids could show what they had learned," she said.

"There are a lot of young adults around who learned about horses from Lionel," Smith said. "He loved kids and he loved horses."

Another horse customer, Joyce Hefty, said Mr. Silvarman would lease horses to prospective customers.

"He wanted to make sure the horse and the customer were a good match," Hefty recalled. "He loved horses and he loved people that much."

Mr. Bellinger was a 'great storyteller'

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ORLAND — More than a century after he entered it, Asa Bellinger quietly left the world on Wednesday, Sept. 3, 2003.

"He was a great storyteller," said Mr. Bellinger's first-born granddaughter, Linda Pollock.

Mr. Bellinger, 102, lived for 69 years in Orland. At the time of his death, he was living at Northern Lakes Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Angola. Linda went to see him once a week, and said he was alert and "just as good as can be" until a couple of weeks ago.

Fiercely independent, moving to the nursing home was a blow to him at first.

Mr. Bellinger

"It was hard in the beginning," Linda said. "But once he'd been there a while, he enjoyed the company."

And, she said, at the nursing home, he found a whole new audience for his stories ... while he still held on to the old one.

"Every time we went to the nursing home, he had stories for us," Linda said. "They may have been stories we'd heard before, but he told them anyway."

Mr. Bellinger held a driver's license until he was 99 years old. Granddaughter Becky Bellinger said a favorite story of his was about when he got his last traffic ticket — at the age of 98 — for speeding.

"He told the officer his wife had just bought him a new pair of shoes, and he wasn't used to driving in them yet," Becky said with a laugh.

Mr. Bellinger was born Feb. 6, 1901, in Kalkaska, Mich., to Fred and Mary (Tonkel) Bellinger. He married his wife, Josephine, on June 7, 1924. She preceded him in death on Jan. 13, 1990.

He had been employed as a brick and stone mason for Kinder Construction Co. in Fort Wayne.

The Bellingers were the parents of four children. They had 18 grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and several great-great-grandchildren.

Linda said she will never forget how her grandfather used to sing to her.

"He liked to sing," she said. "He always sang to us when we were little. My sister and I can remember sitting in his lap, and he was just singing, singing, singing."

Matt Moughler remembered as friend

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

HAMILTON — "All the girls liked him."

"He had a lot of charisma."

"He was a heck of an athlete."

Those were just some of the things a group of Hamilton High School students remembered about Matthew Moughler.

Matt, the son of Janet and Kevin Moughler, was killed Friday, Aug. 29, 2003, in a pickup truck crash. His sudden, tragic death turned the small town upside down.

Matt was remembered as a loving, sensitive young man.

"He just cared," said classmate Kileigh Buell. "He cared about everyone."

Mr. Moughler

Although he was several years younger than Matt, Tyler Buell counted Matt as one of his very best friends.

"He was fun, I know that," Tyler said.

Kileigh chuckled, remembering the mischief Matt and Tyler caused.

"There was never a dull moment when those two were together," she said.

He wasn't a member of a 4-H club, but Matt often spent the entire week at the fairgrounds during the Steuben County fair, helping his friends who were participants. He was particularly fond, his friends recalled, of riding cows.

"He wasn't a member, but he was there and he was a big help," Kileigh said.

Taija Houser, who had been friends with Matt since they were small, said she remembered him as silly and sweet.

"He did what he wanted," she said with a smile. "He didn't care what anyone else thought of him."

Going back to school, said classmate Cheyenne Rakestraw, was difficult, and continues to be.

"It's been a lot different without him there," she said. "It just seems like he should be there in class."

Matt planned a career in construction with his brother, Jacob. He loved to go raccoon hunting and train dogs.

Along with his parents, Matt left behind a brother, Jacob, and grandparents Larry and Sharon McKown and Raymond and Onalee Moughler.

Henry Dehr was dedicated to seniors

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

FREMONT — Henry Dehr believed the best thing he could do in his role as a bus driver for the Steuben County Council on Aging was keep people laughing.

And he did.

"He had a great sense of humor," said David Tubbs, a fellow COA bus driver. "He kept everything lively every day."

Henry E. Dehr Jr., 72, died Wednesday, Sept. 10, 2003, at Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne. He had been battling cancer for some time.

Mr. Dehr had been a van driver for COA since November 1998. He drove three days a week.

"He was one of the finest drivers, as far as consideration for the seniors went," said Ramona Holsinger, who rode with Mr. Dehr on many occasions. "No matter how down I was when I got in that van, I was always laughing when I got out."

Mary Click agreed.

"Our trips will never be the same without Henry with us," she said.

Seniors Pauline Willms, June Kraft, Mildred Musser and Marion Ryan all said the same thing — that Mr. Dehr was "a great guy" and that he will be very missed.

Mr. Dehr

Rhonda Rockenbaugh, executive director of COA, said Mr. Dehr often went above and beyond the call of duty.

"He would always extend his schedule if we needed him to work for us," she said.

He would also make special trips to pick seniors up from the hospital or wherever they were, Rockenbaugh said.

"Never did that man say no," she said.

Mr. Dehr's wife, Lois, whom he married on May 26, 1951, survives. The Dehrs were generous supporters of the COA and its programs, often donating money so senior citizens could go on the trips the organization sponsors. On Father's Day, Mr. Dehr's family would make contributions to the COA in his name, and include notes about what a fine husband, father and grandfather he was.

"He really was an angel," said Betty Bemesderfer, who organizes trips and activities for COA. "I would find his donations in my mailbox or on my desk. He really wanted seniors to have a better life."

Bemesderfer said Mr. Dehr was also always on the lookout for new and interesting things for the COA seniors to do.

"He would see things in newspapers and magazines, and he would clip them out and leave them on my desk," she said.

Mr. Dehr didn't care only about the people at COA.

"There are four birds back in adult day services," said Julie Meyers, who oversees that division of COA. "He was always concerned about the birds. He'd give me Wal-Mart gift cards just to go buy bird seed."

The Dehrs are the parents of four children and have eight grandchildren. He was very dedicated to his family, and loved spending time with his grandchildren.

"He loved his family," sa Tubbs. "His life revolve around them."

Bemesderfer said sh remembers Mr. Dehr takin his young grandsons on tri right along with the seniors.

"He would do anything spend time with them," sh said. "There was nothing mo precious to him than h grandkids."

In a recent edition of th COA newsletter, Mr. Deh wrote about why he was a va driver for the seniors.

"Riding with us is compliment," he wrote. "Yo trust and appreciation mak our day complete."

Rockenbaugh said M Dehr was a quiet, private ma who didn't want a lot, recognition.

"But now, I want his famil I want him to know how muc we appreciated what he did she said.

Fellow van driver Dal Zinn said he and a group seniors reminisced about M Dehr recently.

"We all want to express o sympathies to his family," h said.

Brownell an inspiration to others

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

BUTLER — Mary Lou Brownell never lost hope that she would one day live a normal life.

Anna Barth of Kimmel, one of Mrs. Brownell's two daughters, recalled her mother's determination to not succumb to the multiple sclerosis that she battled nearly 30 years.

Mrs. Brownell died Sept. 11 at the age of 62. She had resided at the Laurels of DeKalb since the early 1990s.

"She was about my age now when she was diagnosed," Barth said. The mother of three and an active homemaker, Mrs. Brownell saw her life dramatically changed by the disease.

A second daughter, Amy Antrup, lives in Waterloo and a son, Rob, makes his home in Florida. A native of Garrett, Mrs. Brownell also is survived by her mother, Irene Odenkirk of Auburn.

Mrs. Brownell

"She had a strong sense of humor and a spirited personality," Barth said of her mother. She was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church in Auburn.

Eventually incapacitated and unable to speak, Mrs. Brownell was nevertheless an inspiration to the staff at Laurels of DeKalb.

"I sure wish I could have known her before she became so ill," said Deb Wyse, a staff member who long worked with Mrs. Brownell.

"She loved horses, and I could always put a movie with horses in the VCR and get a good response," Wyse said. Mrs. Brownell had horses as a young girl, her daughter noted.

She also enjoyed books on tape — "anything with animals in them," Wyse said, and all kinds of music.

From those who knew Mrs Brownell before her illness Wyse learned that her patien had been a popular Girl Scou leader. She had a reputatio for creativity that inspire young girls, Wyse said, and ar adventurous spirit on camp outings.

"She always played a very motherly role," Wyse related.

"She really wanted to enjoy her children and her grandchildren," Barth said, but was robbed of that enjoyment.

"She is at peace now, reunited with those she has loved and lost," her daughter said. "She will make us smile again some day."

Beverly Baas was a tireless volunteer

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

FREMONT — "She was a dear."

"She was such a sweetheart."

That's what people who worked with Beverly June Baas remembered about her.

Mrs. Baas, 73, Fremont, died Thursday, Sept. 18, 2003, at St. Joseph Hospital in Fort Wayne.

A woman who was very interested in helping others, Mrs. Baas volunteered for several Steuben County organizations, including Well Child Clinic and Council on Aging.

"She did our developmental testing," said Joyce Gutstein, who was the director of the Steuben County Well Child Clinic for many years until her retirement six years ago. "She was so dependable, and she was so good with the children. She really related to them and they liked her."

Mrs. Baas

Mrs. Baas' health began to fail a couple of years before Gutstein retired, and she was forced to quit volunteering. Mrs. Baas was battling Parkinson's disease, Gutstein said.

"But even when she couldn't volunteer anymore, we'd go out to lunch," Gutstein said. "We'd run into each other in the grocery store, and there would be big hugs."

Sondra Ferguson is the former director of the Steuben County Council on Aging, where Mrs. Baas was a regular volunteer with the Adult Daybreak program.

"She was a great lady," Ferguson said. "She was here once a week, regularly. We could always count on her."

Mrs. Baas also served on COA's board for a time, Ferguson said.

Mrs. Baas and Gutstein also did community service together as members of the Steuben Woman's Club, an organization Gutstein said Mrs. Baas was "very active in."

Gutstein said Mrs. Baas was an exemplary volunteer, and that is something she will definitely be remembered for.

"She was very faithful, and just a really good volunteer," she said.

Mrs. Baas had also done volunteer work at Lakeland Nursing Center in Angola, as well as the Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Prior to her retirement, Mrs. Baas had worked for Michigan Bell Telephone. She was a member of St. Paul Catholic Chapel in Clear Lake.

Mrs. Baas left behind her husband of 54 years, Rudolph. The couple had three children together, and are the grandparents of five.

Orland crash kills 4

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ORLAND — Four people were pronounced dead at the scene of a major two-car crash Wednesday evening.

The accident happened at about 6:19 p.m. on S.R. 120 east of C.R. 850W, a report from the Steuben County Sheriff's Department said. Units from Steuben County Emergency Medical Services, the Orland Fire Department, the Steuben County Sheriff's Department, the Orland Police Department and the Indiana State Police were dispatched.

Upon arrival, responding personnel found four victims dead. They were:

- Antoinette Bowman, 35, of Angola.
- Gilberto Garcia, 19, of Angola.
- Maribel Rueda, 17, of Angola.
- Adela Martinez, 26, of Fayette, Ohio.

Two other people were injured. James Fritz, 24, of Angola, suffered a fractured left forearm, right heel and right ankle, as well as internal abdominal injuries. Mack D. Fugate, 18, of Angola, suffered internal head, chest and abdominal injuries, as well as a fractured lower left leg and right femur.

Both were transported from the scene to Cameron Memorial Community Hospital in Angola, and were both in critical condition when they were transferred to Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne later in the evening. A nursing supervisor at Lutheran said Fugate remained in critical condition this morning, while Fritz had been upgraded to fair condition.

The sheriff's department report said a Mercury Cougar driven by Garcia was westbound on S.R. 120, while a Pontiac Sunfire driven by Fritz was eastbound. It appears, the report said, that Garcia lost control of his vehicle during a period of heavy rain while he was going through a curve.

Garcia's car then spun sideways and went left of center into the path of Fritz's Sunfire, the report said. The cars collided in the eastbound lane, with Garcia's car, in which Rueda and Martinez were passengers, spinning off the roadway, and Fritz's car, in which Bowman and Fugate were riding, coming to rest in the road.

'Mrs. G' well-loved by TSU students

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

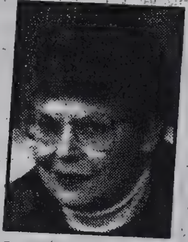
ANGOLA — Joan and Dick Gollnick never had any children of their own, but to the hundreds of students who went through Tri-State University's cross country and track programs while Dick was coaching, the couple were like parents.

"She was like a mother to us," said Doyle Houser, who was on TSU's cross country and track teams from 1977-81. "That's exactly what she was."

Runner Paul Beckwith, an Angola Middle School teacher, described Gollnick as a "mom," too.

The woman affectionately known as "Mrs. G," 66, lost a battle with cancer she had waged for several years on Saturday, Sept. 20, 2003. Her husband survives.

"She and Dick really acted more like your parents than a coach and his wife," Doyle said. "He was more the authoritarian ... you didn't screw around on campus. The things that happen now ... they didn't happen back then because you had to deal with Dick. But Joan, she was the one you went to if you needed to talk or had problems. Any kinds of problems, like problems registering for classes."



Mrs. Golnick

Ken Fillmore, sports editor for the Herald-Republican, said Joan was "well-loved" by the students in Tri-State's cross country and track programs.

"Most people and parents do not know about the countless times she got somebody in to see a doctor even though they didn't have any appointments open. Most people don't know about the countless hours she spent cutting coupons to give to her athletes or doing all she could to make sure one of her 'kids' graduated or finished school," said Robert F. Budak, an Angola Middle School teacher who ran for Coach Gollnick.

Doyle recalled the lunches "Mrs. G." packed for the teams to take on the buses.

"That was great," he said. "Because when you're in school, you don't have a lot of money to eat."

Angola High School counselor and former TSU track member Jack Vrana also has a story about a "sloppy joe feast" in connection with the Gollnicks.

Joan helped the track members in a myriad of ways while they were in college, and she stuck with them after they graduated, moved away and started careers and families. "Her office was jammed with baby photographs, the second generation of pole vaulters, shot putters and steeplechasers," said Beckwith.

Even in her later years, as cancer affected her short-term memory, Joan remembered the boys she'd known through college. "She could remember who was on the same track and cross-country teams with me," said Vrana. "I thought that was incredible. I had trouble doing that."

Doyle said Joan was a gentle, caring woman.

"You'd butt heads with Dick ... I had long hair back then and he'd tell me I had to cut my hair or I couldn't run ... but you never butted heads with Joan."

"She always had a smile and a positive thought for everyone," said Beckwith.

Budak said Joan's emphasis was always on helping others succeed.

"She was a simple person with a simple goal in life," he said. "I am sure she is resting in heaven knowing that her goal has been reached."

Doyle called Joan's death "a real tragedy."

"It just seems like the good people die too soon," he said. "She was a great lady."

One thing Doyle remembers vividly about Joan is the tremendous love she had for her husband.

"It's so rare that you see people who have been together that long that are still truly in love with each other, but they were," he said. "It was an absolute disaster when we found out she was sick. I can't even think of a time I saw one of them without the other."

For all his memories, Doyle said he could never say enough about the woman Joan was.

"People will never know all the good Joan and Dick did," he said. "And that's because they didn't want anyone to know."

Mrs. Terman woman of compassion, faith

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

KENDALLVILLE — At 35, Beverly Ellen Terman found herself widowed and with three children to raise on her own.

"One of the things I admired the most about her was that she raised all of us when my father died," said Mrs. Terman's daughter, Nancy Walburn said. "One of her goals was that we all get a college education, and she accomplished it. My brother was lieutenant colonel in the Air Force; I just retired as a teacher and my sister is a teacher."

Mrs. Terman, 79, died Thursday, Sept. 18, 2003, at her home. She had recovered from a bout with breast cancer in 1994, and since then had struggled with Parkinson's disease. This past summer, it was discovered she had terminal uterine cancer.

She served as executive administrator for the Kendallville Housing Authority (The Lamplighter) from 1977 to 1986.

"She often told us she felt it was one of her minstries to help the elderly," Nancy said, her voice shaky with tears.

She was a 1942 graduate of Kendallville High School.

"She wanted so badly to go to her class reunion on (Sept.) 20th," Nancy said. "Until the week before she died, her friends were calling her telling her they'd see her there."

She had worked as a ledger clerk at S.F. Bowser and at General Electric in Fort Wayne from 1942 to 1946. She worked for B.W. Jansen, D.C., for 15 years as a receptionist and at McCray Memorial Hospital from 1974 to 1977, also as a receptionist. Following her service with the housing authority, she returned to work for Dr. Jansen until 1990.

Mrs. Terman

Nancy said her mother was "a people person" who loved being a receptionist.

Another of Mrs. Terman's loves was basketball, especially college basketball.

"She couldn't wait for that season to start, and she hated to see it end," Nancy said.

Mrs. Terman was also an athlete in her own right, playing softball and basketball while she was a student at Wayne Center School.

"The minister mentioned a her funeral that she wasn't ju a good softball player, she wa a great softball player," Nanc said.

Mrs. Terman was an activ member of the First Christia Church, member of the Esthe Circle, served as financia secretary of the Sunday schoo and church and served as trustee and as chairman of th Missions Committee.

"Church was so important t her," Nancy said. "She ha such strong faith."

Nancy said her mother wa "a very good mother an grandmother." She is als survived by daughter Suzann and son Robert, as well as tw granddaughters, thre grandsons, five stepgrandchildren and four step-great grandchildren.

Mr. Bledsoe gave back to community

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — Roy Bledsoe was a funny man, his wife Margaret said, but to get it you had to "really be paying attention."

Mr. Bledsoe

"He was very quiet, very reserved," she said. "He had a real dry wit that you had to listen for, or it would go right over your head. He appreciated a good pun."

Lifetime Angola resident Roy E. Bledsoe, 78, died Saturday, Sept. 27, 2003, at home. He had been battling cancer and suffered a stroke.

The Bledsoes were married on Jan. 29, 1950, in Angola.

"Fifty-three years and nine months," Margaret said with a smile.

He was a member of Angola Masonic Lodge No. 236, Scottish Rite, Valley of Fort Wayne, Mizpah Shrine Temple, Pokagon Shrine Club and Angola American Legion Post No. 31.

"Any organization he was involved with, he was really involved," Margaret said. "He didn't just pay his dues."

Margaret said her husband "took to heart" the trips he made to children's hospitals in his capacities as a Mason and a Shriner.

"He was glad he could do that and be involved in that way," she said.

He was also mindful of the town he lived in and its government. He served for 10 years on the Angola Plan Commission and for 10 years on the Steuben Lakes Regional Waste District Board of Trustees.

The Bledsoes had three sons and two daughters. They are the grandparents of 10 and have one great-grandchild. Mr. Bledsoe was a doting father and grandfather, Margaret said.

"The salesmen would come around, and all they'd have to say was, 'this will benefit your children,'" she said. "Bing! The sale was made."

Mr. Bledsoe's oldest surviving son, Tom, said his father was "very dedicated."

"He never missed a sporting event for any of his kids — and then for his grandkids," he said.

It was also important to her husband that all of their children go to college. "He made sure that happened," Margaret said.

Tom remembered his father as helpful.

"He was always there for us, and always around to help with projects around the house," he said.

For all he did and all he accomplished, the thing Margaret would like people to remember about her husband is very simple.

"He was a genuinely nice man," she said. "He really was."

Fatal Crash

MAGGIE SHEPARD

This fuel truck skidded into the back of a semi, then into the path of an oncoming car, killing one woman and seriously injuring another Monday on U.S. 20.

Cromwell woman dies in crash

BY MAGGIE SHEPARD

LAGRANGE — After skidding into the back of a semi, a fuel truck crashed into an oncoming car, killing one woman and seriously injuring another.

Donna Troyer, 53, of Cromwell, and her passenger, Marion VanFleeren, 77, of Goshen, were traveling west on U.S. 20 west of LaGrange at about 3:15 p.m. Monday when their car was struck by the fuel truck.

Troyer did not survive the accident. Her injuries were not reported by police. VanFleeren suffered a depressed skull fracture and was airlifted to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne. She is listed in critical condition today. According to a LaGrange County Sheriff's Department report, Randall Delaruelle, 51, of Millersburg, was eastbound on U.S. 20 when he tried to stop his fuel truck for a semi that was turning from the highway into a driveway near C.R. 250W. The fuel truck, which was carrying five types of fuel, started to skid and crashed into the back of the semi.

The fuel truck crossed into westbound traffic, hitting the car before rolling onto its top. Delaruelle, who was not wearing a seat belt, was ejected from the vehicle. Only a small amount of diesel fuel leaked from the fuel truck, according to LaGrange firefighters.

One firefighter on the scene said the truck probably would have rolled over, even if it hadn't hit the semi.

The driver of the semi, Larry Rhoades, 62, of New Paris, was not injured.

No blood-alcohol content was detected and no charges have been filed against anyone involved, but the investigation continues, according to the report.

Traffic was routed around the scene and the road was blocked for five hours while investigators recreated the accident and cleaned up the scene and road. The area was finally cleared at about 8:15 p.m. LaGrange County Sheriff's Department, Indiana State Police and Commercial Vehicle Enforcement officers and emergency medical teams officers were also on the scene.

Former Ligonier Police Chief Durham dies

BY BOB BUTTGEN

leader@ligtel.com

LIGONIER — John Durham, who gave more than 35 years of service to the city of Ligonier, including almost seven years as police chief, was being remembered today as a good friend to many.

Durham

Durham died at his Ligonier home Monday. He suffered a massive stroke in 1998, but had worked hard on his recovery over the past five years.

"John was a super individual. This is a big loss for the city, his friends and his family," said Ligonier Mayor Gary Bishop, who served for many years with Durham on the city's police force.

"I knew John a long time and couldn't have worked with a better police officer," Bishop added. "If you needed him, he was there. There wasn't anybody you want for backup more than John."

Current Police Chief Bryan Shearer echoed those comments concerning the 1998 Ligonier Citizen of the Year..

"I lost a really, really good friend," Shearer said this morning. "He was the one who hired me and gave me the opportunity to start my career. John was a very private individual, but a good guy. He was a well-liked guy in the police department and had many, many friends. You just can't say enough about him."

Durham's service to the city began in 1961 when he was hired as a combination firefighter and police officer, and a year later he was promoted to a full-time police officer.

He graduated from the Fort Wayne police academy in 1967 and later attended the state police training academy.

Even as a police officer, he found time to further serve the city by being elected to the City Council for two terms, and was elected from within the council to the post of council president.

Donald Powell Jr.

FORT WAYNE — Donald M. Powell Jr., 77, died Sunday, Oct. 5, 2003, at Parkview Hospital.

TB killed man found at Bixler

BY MEGAN HOCKLEY
meganh@kpcnews.net

KENDALLVILLE — Tuberculosis was the cause of death for a man found lying on a Bixler Lake parking lot Saturday, according to findings from an autopsy.

The man has been identified as Constantin Vafile, 58, of no fixed address. Police initially reported the case as a possible suicide.

Anyone who has had direct contact with Vafile should be tested for the disease, according to Dr. Gerald Warrener, Noble County health officer. Even first responders who handled Vafile's body shortly after death should be tested, Warrener said. According to Kevin Jones, Kendallville's interim police chief, the five Kendallville officers who responded to the scene will be tested for tuberculosis.

The test, a superficial skin prick, is available at doctors' offices in the area and at the Noble County Board of Health office, located in the Noble County Office Complex—South, Albion.

According to Warrener, this case of tuberculosis doesn't represent a public health hazard, and there is no chance of an epidemic.

"It is not a quarantine situation," Warrener said.

According to the Centers for Disease Control, tuberculosis is a communicable disease caused by bacteria that attack the lungs. TB is spread through the air from one person to another. The bacteria are put into the air when a person with TB coughs or sneezes. People nearby may breathe in these bacteria and become infected.

In the 1940s, scientists discovered the first of several drugs now used to treat

TB. As a result, TB slowly began to disappear in the United States. But TB has come back. Between 1985 and 1992, the number of TB cases increased. More than 16,000 cases were reported in 2000 in the United States, according to the CDC.

Noble County Coroner John Brazzell said Vafile, whose family lives in Illinois, was going through a bad time just before he died.

"The way I understand it is he was living in his truck," Brazzell said.

OCTOBER 12 2003

Mother's life revolved around faith, family

KENDALLVILLE — I have been involved with writing Sunday "Tribute" articles since the feature was introduced earlier this year.

It is not easy to call relatives and friends of someone recently deceased and ask them to talk about the attributes and character of that person. It is especially awkward when I don't personally know, or have a familiarity with, the person to whom we wish to pay tribute.

BILL GISEL

I have been amazed at the mostly positive reactions to my calls. I explain that we want to tell positive things about the person — things generally not known outside of family and close friends. Only once have I been refused cooperation by a close family member, who told me pointedly that under no circumstances did they want to see a tribute published.

Often, I am given more information than I can possibly use. It is not uncommon for a son, daughter, husband or wife to share enthusiastically with me intimate recollections of actions, deeds or influences of the person so recently taken from them.

With the death of my mother, Ida J. Gisel, on Sept. 20, 2003, I told my editor that I would need to have a brief hiatus from the tribute assignment. I selfishly determined that to write about someone who had recently died would be too painful. I wanted time to adjust to my loss, not be reminded.

I have since realized that the best way to adjust is to feel the loss, not run from it. I know today that the loss of my mother is forever, but she will always be as close as a warm and happy memory.

I like to remember how much pride mom took in each of her children. She had no favorites and accepted our weaknesses as readily as she did our strengths.

Mom was a preacher's daughter, so we all benefited from an early and constant participation in church activities. Her faith was as strong as her bond to her husband, Ora — they had celebrated 59 years of marriage just short of a month before her death.

Nearly all of my mother's friendships were associated in some way with her Christian faith: through Bible study circles, church suppers, Sunday school class or the Order of the Eastern Star. Neighbors were an exception, and I learned early in life that you could rely on the lady next door for an extra egg, cup of sugar or an emergency babysitter.

Mrs. Gisel

She worked hard at raising four children to adulthood, wearing out both hips and one knee. When we were all gone from the nest, her focus was on dad, keeping him happy and well-fed. The only disagreement my parents ever had was over travel; dad liked it and mom didn't. She had enough of that as a child, moving from community to community as her dad changed EUB parishes, and her home was her world.

To the end, mom loved doing for others. After her funeral, there were still cookies and Rice Krispies marshmallow treats she had made in her cookie cans.

Mom didn't get to die at home, but she was pretty close to it. She had recovered from two of her surgeries at Provena-Sacred Heart Home in Avilla, and while there made countless friends among staff and residents. She repaid kindnesses with her crocheted blankets, tatting work and homemade pies that she bestowed upon them after her recoveries. With her latest illness, she was welcomed one more time for a recovery period, but it was not to be.

Mom looked forward to death as she had looked forward to the responsibilities of being a wife and mother. It was for her just another part of life.

There will be many things in the days and weeks to come to remind me of my mother, and I am sure all of them won't be happy reminders. But, from here on out, every time I write a tribute it will be with my mother in mind, and just maybe I will do a little better job.

Woman dies of gunshot wound

Authorities unsure whether cause is accidental or suicide

BY MEGAN HOCKLEY
meganh@kpcnews.net
AND BOB BRALEY
bobb@kpcnews.net

ALBION — Authorities have been unable to determine if the gunshot wound that killed a Rome City woman Saturday was caused by suicide or accident, Noble County Sheriff Gary Leatherman said this morning.

Betty A. Ritchie, 36, died in her home in the 1000 block of Shady Lane, Rome City, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. She bled to death after a bullet went through her lower abdomen, severing a femoral artery, according to Leatherman.

Ritchie had allegedly been arguing with her husband, Brad Ritchie, just before she died. Leatherman said that although the couple had a history of domestic trouble, evidence shows that there is no chance Betty Ritchie was murdered.

According to Leatherman, Betty Ritchie was alone in her bedroom, pulling a loaded muzzleloader off the top shelf of a small closet when she was struck by the bullet. The bullet was found in the flooring behind her.

"It could only have happened when she was in that closet by herself," Leatherman said. "What we don't know is what set the trigger off."

Based on the angle and trajectory of the bullet, Leatherman said it would have been possible for Ritchie to shoot herself with the muzzleloader. It is equally possible that the trigger caught on a piece of clothing or miscellaneous item in the closet when Ritchie grabbed it, making the shooting accidental.

Noble County Coroner John Brazzell said this morning that he has not yet ruled on the nature of Ritchie's death. The options for any unnatural death are suicide, homicide, accident or undetermined, according to Brazzell.

"I haven't made up my mind," Brazzell said about Ritchie's death. "I've got to look at a couple of things before I make that decision."

Ritchie's funeral was today at 11 a.m. at Brazzell Funeral Home in Avilla. Before leaving for the service, Ritchie's mother, Susan Bremer, said she hasn't been contacted by officials about any conclusions made in the police investigation of the death.

"Everything's just up in the air. There's too many stories. There's nothing conclusive," Bremer said. "It's not finished."

Bremer was quietly certain that Betty's death was not at her own hand. "It was not suicide," she said. "It definitely was not. It couldn't have been. She was very happy that day."

Bremer and her husband, Carl, own the Country Kitchen restaurant in Avilla, where Betty Ritchie had been employed. "She worked off and on there for 20 years," Susan Bremer said. "She was still helping there as needed." Ritchie's son, Joshua Fike, also works there, Bremer added.

Ritchie had lived in California for about six years, Bremer said. Her marriage to Brad Ritchie was her second, and their marriage was in its fourth year. She had moved between Avilla and Kendallville until moving to Rome City about a year ago, Bremer recalled.

"She loved horses," Bremer said of her daughter. She enjoyed every aspect of them, from working with them to grooming them and riding them, even though she was not in a position to own one.

Bremer said it helped a little to have a sunny day on the day of the funeral, but the pain is still there. "We really don't know anything," she said, "except that Betty is gone."

Cause of death undetermined

Rome City

BY MEGAN HOCKLEY
meganh@kpcnews.net

ROME CITY — Without enough evidence to judge it an accident or a suicide, Noble County Coroner John Brazzell will officially rule that Betty A. Ritchie's manner of death is undetermined.

"I don't feel comfortable making it a suicide or an accident or anything else," Brazzell said this morning. "I hate to pick undetermined. Most coroners don't like (to declare a death) undetermined, but I think in this case, it's the most intelligent thing to do."

Ritchie, 36, died in her home in the 1000 block of Shady Lane, Rome City, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. She bled to death after a bullet went through her lower abdomen, severing a femoral artery.

Ruling the manner of death undetermined makes the case eligible to be reopened later if more evidence emerges, Brazzell said, adding that although he can't deliver an official determination of the case as an accident, he personally believes that suicide is unlikely based on his knowledge of Ritchie's character. He said he knew her well.

"I have my doubts. There was no note," Brazzell said. "She might have threatened suicide, but I just find it impossible that she'd go through with it ... I think she might be one to press it, but not go all the way."

Brazzell's ruling is separate from the police investigation into Ritchie's death. Noble County Sheriff Gary Leatherman said his department's investigation has revealed that Ritchie had allegedly been arguing with her husband just before she died. Leatherman said that although the couple had a history of domestic trouble, evidence shows that there is no chance Ritchie was murdered.

Ritchie was allegedly alone in her bedroom, pulling a loaded muzzleloader off the top shelf of a small closet when she was shot. The bullet was found in the flooring behind her.

Based on the angle and trajectory of the bullet, Leatherman said it would have been possible for Ritchie to shoot herself with the muzzleloader. It is equally possible that the trigger caught on a piece of clothing or miscellaneous item in the closet when Ritchie grabbed it, making the shooting accidental.

Shirley Hantz was happy, faithful

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

FREMONT — Shirley Hantz's sister-in-law, Connie Hantz, can barely remember a time when Shirley wasn't smiling.

"She was one of the nicest people you'd ever want to meet," Connie said. "She was always smiling, always happy."

Shirley A. Hantz, 36, died Friday, Oct. 3, 2003, at Indiana University Hospital in Indianapolis. She had been ill since late July, when an inflammation of the pancreas made it necessary for her to be put on a respirator.

Mrs. Hantz

"That ruined her lungs," Connie said. "She hadn't been sick before that. It was pretty sudden."

She was a member of the Stokes Chapel United Methodist Church in Montgomery, Mich., where she was in the church choir and led Sunday school singing. She also belonged to the church advisory board.

She was a member and secretary of the Fremont and Warsaw Pythian Sisters, and was also State Grand Treasurer for the Pythian Sisters. She was a member of the Jackson Emmaus Spiritual Retreat.

"She liked to be involved with organizations, but she was in the church choir and she really liked to sing," Connie said.

She was a former secretary of the Fremont Fire and Rescue. A portion of the proceeds raised by that organization's pancake breakfast during this weekend's Autumn Festival in Fremont was donated to the family.

Her hobbies included singing, collecting angels and volunteering for the homeless.

Shirley married her husband, Rod, on June 10, 1989. She had no children of her own, but had stepchildren.

"My husband and her husband are brothers," Connie said. "We were great friends, and this has been a great loss for our family."

Connie said she misses her sister-in-law, but she is glad she never had to live in a nursing facility.

"She was always so active," she said. "She wouldn't have wanted that."

BUTLER — Six people died Friday night in a head-on collision of two pickup trucks on U.S. 6.

"Of all the fatals I've worked, this is the most horrendous," said DeKalb County Sheriff John Dennis, who has been with the sheriff's department for 28 years.

The accident happened about two miles west of Butler around 10:20 p.m. Three of the people killed were riding in an extended cab pickup truck from the Bremen area. Two other people in that truck were airlifted to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne via Samaritan helicopter, and were in critical condition.

Three other people died in a compact pickup truck with Butler-area registration.

Dennis said the passengers in the truck from the Bremen area were apparently heading home after a sectional football game at Butler between Bremen and Eastside. They were traveling westbound.

Police believe all of the victims were adults, and that no young children were involved in the crash.

The truck from the Butler area passed another vehicle on the right, Dennis said. None of the passengers riding in the third vehicle was injured although the vehicle was slightly damaged. Dennis said he was not sure why the truck was passing on the right.

The Butler-area truck hit the berm and crossed the center line, colliding head-on with truck from the Bremen area. The truck from Bremen overturned into the ditch on the north side of the highway. The Butler truck came to rest on its wheels in the center of the road.

The names of the accident victims will be released later, Dennis said, after all are identified and family members are notified.

Coach, administrator earned Garrett's respec

BY BILL GISEL

GARRETT — It didn't matter to Roger Weimer if it was in the classroom or on the playing floor — the important thing was the kids.

That is the consensus of a number of people who remember Mr. Weimer, a long-time coach, counselor and school administrator who died Oct. 6, at the young age of 66.

"He was certainly a no-nonsense, very in-charge type of guy," said Alice Yingling, who was secretary to Mr. Weimer from 1989 to 1995, when Mr. Weimer retired from Garrett High School.

"He was always proud of the kids, and especially his own kids and his grandchildren," Yingling said. "He especially loved retirement, because he could spend time with his family."

Yingling recalled with a laugh when computers were first introduced at the high school and the first lab for students and teachers was established.

"He made sure we all learned how to use computers, but he said he was too old to learn. 'They are OK for you, but I am not going to do it,'" she said of Weimer's reaction to the computers.

Mr. Weimer

Ron Kock, athletic director at DeKalb High School, was a student manager when Mr. Weimer was basketball coach at Garrett. Mr. Weimer was a counselor and coach from 1969 to 1972.

"He was very demanding, but also very highly respected," Kock said of the man who was one of his many mentors.

"If you ask me if he influenced my life ... sure he did!" Kock said. His greatest enjoyment was spending time with Mr. Weimer in more recent years, on the golf course or just in warm conversation.

"He truly loved kids and had their best interest in his heart," Kock added. "One of the things I admired most is that he spoke his mind and he did things the way he thought they should be done, and 99 percent of the time he was right," Kock said. "I really admire that trait."

Bob Novy, a 30-year Garrett High School educator, believes Mr. Weimer "left a big mark on our community" by coaching the Railroaders to back-to-back regional basketball championships in 1971 and 1972.

"We went into the sectional with a less-than-.500 record and won, and also the Fort Wayne regional, losing to a very strong Anderson Madison Heights," Novi noted. "In 1972, with an outstanding record and an all-time leading scorer (Jeff Stroman), Garrett played Madison Heights again, but again lost.

"He (Mr. Weimer) was, I think, a very faithful servant to our school and community."

Tom Blotkamp, a Garr businessman and city coun member who played bask ball for Mr. Weimer, said Weimer was far more th "just a coach."

Blotkamp said Mr. Weim "got the best out of eve player, because he coached a way that used whatev assets a player had.

"He was very fair, and had outstanding discipli Everyone respected him."

Garrett had a strong bask ball history and a program th was strong for its siz Blotkamp recalled.

"I think it slipped a lit after Roger left, but it certainly strong once agai he said.

Blotkamp said he saw friend and coach go by business on the day he died.

"He had been at the g course and he went home a died while mowing his gras Blotkamp said.

Police identify 6 victims of Friday night collisio

BY DAVE KURTZ

AND THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUTLER — A driver who caused a crash that killed six people Friday night had been in jail for drunken driving just two weeks earlier.

Daniel C. Ing, 24, of the 100 block of Canal Street, Butler, drove a 1998 Chevrolet 1500 pickup across the center line of U.S. 6 and struck a larger 1999 Chevrolet 2500 pickup head-on.

DeKalb County Sheriff John Dennis said police "have received information that has not been confirmed" saying that Ing had been at a bar before the crash.

The sheriff said alcohol may be a f
in the crash, but tests of Ing's bloo alcohol are not complete.

The collision killed Ing and passengers in his truck, Nancy D. Ra
43, of the same address as Ing, and F
D. Patrick, 47, of the 400 block of

Depot Street, Butler. Raneri was a co-owner of the truck, along with Carol Antrup of the same address, who was not in the truck.

Three people died in the other pickup: the driver, Casey D. Miller, 33, of Bremen; and two rear-seat passengers, Chad T. Beeson, 29, of Bremen, and Carey F. Jones, 36, of Rochester.

Two passengers in Miller's truck survived the crash. Both were flown to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne by the Samaritan helicopter ambulance.

Robert Coffel, 35, unknown address, was listed in critical condition at the hospital with a lacerated spleen and facial fractures. He was riding in the front passenger seat.

George Filchak, 37, also of an unknown address, was listed in stable condition at the hospital with facial lacerations, broken ribs and a fractured knee. He was in the back seat of the pickup.

Dennis said of all the people in the two pickup trucks, the only ones wearing seat belts were Miller and Coffel.

"This was a horrendous crash and in my 28 years of experience with this department, we've never had a fatal that had this many people involved," Dennis said.

All six people who died were killed instantly, Dennis said. Ing died from injuries to his head and abdomen. Raneri, Patrick, Miller and Beeson died of massive head injuries. Jones died of closed head injuries.

The five men in Miller's truck were heading home from a high school sectional football game in Butler when the crash occurred at 10:10 p.m.

Dennis said as Ing was driving toward Butler on U.S. 6. near C.R. 57, about two miles west of Butler, he came up behind a 1999 GMC Jimmy sport-utility vehicle at a high rate of speed.

Traffic was approaching in the westbound lane and Ing drove onto the shoulder of the road to pass the GMC on the right. Ing lost control of his truck and crossed the center line, hitting Miller's truck head-on.

"There is no excuse for this," Dennis said of the driving that caused the crash. "Road conditions were not a factor. Weather was not a factor. The fault is entirely on the driver of the red pickup truck (Ing)."

Dennis said it appeared that neither driver applied his brakes before the crash.

"The westbound driver (Miller) had no inkling or chance in this crash," the sheriff said.

After the pickups collided, Miller's truck overturned in a shallow ditch on the north side of the road. Ing's truck stopped in the center of the road, upright. The left front of the GMC that Ing had passed hit the left rear bumper of the Ing's pickup.

Deborah Ladd, 51, of Butler, who was driving the GMC, was not injured. Dennis said she pulled over and parked on the south berm of the roadway.

Rescuers rushing to the crash scene came from the DeKalb County Police Department, Indiana State Police, Butler Police, Waterloo Police, Butler Fire Department, Waterloo Fire Department, DeKalb County EMS and the Samaritan helicopter. DeKalb County Coroner Richard Brown and his deputies investigated the fatalities.

Beeson, who died in Miller's truck, was a patrolman with the Bremen Police Department and was helping compile Bremen High School's statistics for Friday night's football game with Eastside High School, said Larry Dumph, a Bremen police dispatcher.

Beeson had been on the 12-officer force in the town of about 5,000 residents since 1996. He was married and had two young children.

"He was a great person. He was a black belt in karate and he was pretty active in the department. He was a big football fan," Dumph said.

Dennis said Ing had been arrested on Sept. 6, 2002, for driving while intoxicated.

On Oct. 6 of this year in DeKalb Superior Court, Ing was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated with an unlawful blood-alcohol concentration, a Class C misdemeanor. He was sentenced to 96 hours in jail and a year of probation. His driver's license was suspended for 90 days. He spent the weekend of Oct. 10 through Oct. 12 serving his sentence in the DeKalb County Jail.

Dennis did not identify the bar where, according to a tip received by police, Ing and his passengers had been seen before the crash.

The crash closed U.S. 6 until about 3 a.m. Saturday, Dennis said.

Family writes loving tribute to mom

IDA CHRISTIANSON died Sunday, Oct. 12, 2003. Her family wrote the following tribute.

Ida Christianson was born Ida Wentela, the sixth of 10 children of Finnish immigrants, in a tiny farming community in northwest Wisconsin, Oct. 30, 1915.

One day in the first grade, Ida raised her hand and politely asked the teacher if she could use the restroom outside her one-room schoolhouse, down the road from her family's farm. To her chagrin, the teacher said an adamant NO! Ida suffered until the end of the school day. When she got home she told her father about the incident and then punctuated the story with: "When I grown up I'm going to be a teacher; and I'll never treat my students that way!"

She did indeed grow up and she did indeed become a teacher. She attended both the Duluth, Minn., State Teachers College and Superior, Wis., State Teachers College, neighboring colleges in these two cities which adjoin each other.

Her father, a subsistence farmer and carpenter, helped as much as he could, often giving her his only $5 when she would come home for a visit. He took on extra carpentry jobs and even worked in the logging camps in the winter months so that his daughter would have at least enough money for tuition.

Ida found a job ironing shirts for a wealthy attorney in Superior, whose personal preference required five clean, freshly starched and ironed shirts each day. In turn for the ironing and other domestic chores each day, the lawyer and his wife provided Ida with board, room and enough spare time to study for her classes.

She graduated from the two-year rural education program of the Superior State Teachers College (now the University of Wisconsin's Superior campus) in 1936 and immediately began teaching grades one through 12 in the same one-room schoolhouse that she herself had attended.

PHOTO CONTRIBUTED

Ida Christianson

She spent five years in her home county school system of one-, two- and four-room schoolhouses, teaching both in the Finnish and English languages in this primarily Finnish community.

On snow-covered winter days, she skied across country on skis made by her father. In the spring and fall she walked or hitched rides on passing milk wagons, cattle trucks or with neighbors who happened to be going her way. Following this experience she spent two years in a larger school in Drummond in the neighboring county. During each of these seven summers she returned to Superior for additional college courses.

Ida relished her career choice. She dedicated her life to it and she excelled in it. Thinking a move upward into the state teaching system would enhance her career, Ida took a position with the State Board of Education as a teaching supervisor, overseeing and advising practicing teachers in community schools throughout the northwest region of Wisconsin, residing in Park Falls.

Ida did this for a couple of years until she realized that her heart belonged in the classroom. So she took a teaching position in Park Falls, Wis., where she met her future husband, Rueben, who was practicing there as a watchmaker. After three years in Park Falls, Ida decided to go back to college to get the rest of the work she needed to get her four-year degree and her life license.

By January of 1948, Ida graduated with her bachelor of science degree in education and she immediately took a position in southwestern Wisconsin in the town of Monroe for the last half of the school year. That summer she married Rueben (Chris) Christianson in Duluth, Minn., after a quick trip to introduce him to her family at the family farm in Wisconsin, about 40 miles from Duluth.

Reuben had already taken a job in Kendallville and Ida remained in Monroe for the remainder of her contract and then joined her new husband in Kendallville.

After taking six years off to start a family, Ida returned to teaching and spent summer breaks taking additional college courses in education, not with the goal of an additional professional degree, but with the desire to take what she could learn back to her classroom.

Throughout her career in both northwestern and southwestern Wisconsin and in northeastern Indiana, Ida never had to apply for a job. School trustees, school boards and administrators sought her out ... her reputation as a conscientious, dedicated teacher preceded her.

Even when she followed her new husband to Indiana and took time out to start her family, the trustees at LaOtto told her she would have a position as soon as she decided to resume teaching. She taught at the LaOtto Elementary and Avilla Elementary before transferring to Kendallville Central where she taught the last 23 years of her nearly 40-year professional career. At Trinity Church Ida spent many years helping to teach both Sunday school and Vacation Bible School.

Even at the end of her life, Mother could remember nearly every student she ever taught, not only their name but a little something about them personally. That fact become clearly apparent when Mother was in her 80th year; Ann Couture came into the family jewelry store for some repair work. During the ensuing conversation, Ann mentioned that she was from the Cable, Wis., area, following her husband to Kendallville a few years prior. I responded that my mother had taught for a time at the Drummond school, not far from Cable. After telling her my mother's maiden name, Mrs. Couture proclaimed that my mother must have been her fifth-grade teacher in Drummond.

That evening I told Mom about this chance encounter and after a few minutes of thought, Mom said: "Ann Couture? That's her married name. Might she be that little Ann that I had in fifth grade?" And she proceeded to tell me about this little girl in the north woods of Wisconsin some 50-odd years ago.

A remarkable woman: she put her family above her career and her students above personal professional advancement. She's now with her God and the family that has gone before her; after having lived a good life of good and faithful service to her family, friends and students; and to her church, her community and her profession.

Forever in our hearts and in our memories.

With Love,

Her son, David and his wife Rhonda

Her daughter, Nancy and her husband Ken

Her grandson, Chris and his wife Brandy

Her grandsons, Glenn and Galen

Her great-grandson, Titus Jay

Former superintendent stayed shar

Willis Roberts lived to be 100 years old

BY AMY OBERLIN
amyo@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — Willis Roberts touched many, many lives in his 100 years, notably as the Steuben County superintendent of schools from 1936 to 1949.

Roberts died Oct. 28 at Lakeland Nursing Center, Angola. Up until his final days, he lived at home with his wife, Vivian, at his family's property on U.S. 20, with longtime friends Connie and Lee Downey acting as caretakers.

"I've known Willis about all my life," said Connie, who moved to Angola from Muncie after Vivian suffered a fall about a year ago. The Downeys were long connected to Roberts through his first wife, Mary Benfer, who passed away in 1989.

Mr. Roberts

Earlier this year, he noted that not many people he'd known were left living, but he seemed to never have forgotten any of the students whose lives he impacted as a teacher or administrator.

Even in his last months, Roberts' mind remained sharp, and he could talk for hours about his memories of teaching and living in the area. Some stories were funny, some interesting and some probably should not be retold. Others, he had noted mischievously, he kept to himself.

His neighbor, Margaret Smith, characterized him as a vibrant, delightful person. "He's done a lot for the community," she said.

Roberts — born Sept. 18, 1903 — started his education in a one-room schoolhouse in Jackson Township and attended Flint High School. He attended Tri-State Normal College in Angola, received a bachelor's degree from Manchester College and a master's from Indiana University in 1932.

Then, after spending 24 years learning, he gave 45 years to teaching others.

Roberts taught for 15 yea and then was elected county superintendent of schools in Steuben County, holding tha position for 13 years. From there, he went to the Hunter town school system, now Carroll High School, where taught for 17 years.

As a teacher, he claimed math as his favorite subject, and liked to tell this riddle t students; "If you had half as much and two times as man plus two and a half more, you'd have enough to make score."

Not many people today know that a score equals 20, but with that information, the should be able to deduce the answer.

Semi kills walker

Fatal accident occurs on U.S. 20

BY MAGGIE SHEPARD
newssun@ligtel.com

LAGRANGE — A LaGrange man died from injuries he sustained Sunday after being hit by a semi while walking on U.S. 20 east of LaGrange.

Clancey M. Ryan, 34, died at Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne where he was taken after the 11:39 a.m. accident with injuries including a skull fracture, two broken legs, an arm injury and possible internal injuries.

LaGrange Police Sgt. Kevin Brower reported that the semi driver, Jay D. Martz, 46, of Lebanon, sustained no injuries when his semi, which was hauling cars, struck Ryan in the westbound lane on U.S. 20 just east of C.R. 100E.

"He was driving under the speed limit and alcohol with him was not a factor," Brower said.

Toxicology tests were taken on both Ryan and Martz, but results will not be available until next week, Brower said.

Brower said that Ryan was walking in the direction of traffic on the paved shoulder when for unknown reasons he stepped into the travel portion of the road and into the front of the semi. After he was hit, Ryan was thrown onto the opposite side of the road where he came to rest 39 feet from the point of impact.

"Martz said he tried to avoid him, but couldn't," Brower said.

Ryan was alive when police and medics arrived and was transported to Parkview by ambulance.

"The chopper couldn't fly because of the weather," Brower said, so a nurse accompanied Ryan to the hospital.

LaGrange Fire Department and EMS, LaGrange sheriff's deputy Ed Flowers and Indiana State Police trooper James Sheffield assisted Brower with the accident and traffic, which was routed around the scene until 1:43 p.m.

The causes of the accident are still under investigation.

Town councilman drowns

Wolcottville's Cobbs dies while fishing at Blackman Lake

BY MAGGIE SHEPARD
newssun@ligtel.com

WOLCOTTVILLE — Life-long Wolcottville resident and town Councilman Robert Cobbs, 79, died while fishing Monday evening on Blackman Lake, the victim of an apparent drowning.

Divers from the Johnson Township Fire Department and Department of Natural Resources found Cobbs' body underneath his capsized fishing boat in 15 to 20 feet of water about 45 to 50 feet from shore between 8:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. Monday, according to Johnson Township Fire Capt. Don Bateman.

LaGrange County Coroner Frank Jagoda said the cause of death was asphyxia by drowning.

According to Bateman, Cobbs had gone fishing at approximately noon at Blackman Lake near South Milford. A witness working on a home at the lake in southeast LaGrange County reported seeing Cobbs fishing in the area where his boat was found between 3 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Bateman said Cobbs had a home on the lake and his van was parked at the home. Police were called to the scene at 6 p.m. after a family member reported that Cobbs had not returned from a fishing trip when he would normally return.

Wolcottville Police, LaGrange and Steuben County DNR officers, Indiana State Police officers, and a citizen's rescue dogs found Cobbs' overturned and anchored boat at the southwest end of the lake, Hoover said.

According to Wolcottville Town Marshal Ron Hoover, Cobbs' death has been ruled accidental by Jagoda.

"It is just tragic," Hoover said. "A loss will be felt by the entire community."

Cobbs and his wife, Martha, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Oct. 10.

"He was a great guy. He volunteered from the time he retired," Martha Cobbs said.

Martha said her husband didn't often go fishing, but on Monday had finished doing some odd jobs at Wolcottville United Methodist Church and decided to visit the family's home on Blackman Lake. Cobbs took along their blind Boston terrier, Nick, who is still missing.

Cobbs was an active Lions Club member and a member of the Wolcottville American Legion. He attended Wolcottville United Methodist Church.

He was a Wolcottville Town Council member for the last eight years, and also served a term from 1955-59.

Cobbs decided not to run for re-election this year, leaving his seat open for election. Republican Derek Jordan and Democrat Natalie Sturgis are vying for the position. The winner will take office Jan. 1, 2004.

The remainder of Cobbs' term needs to be filled by a Republican caucus, LaGrange County Republican Party chairwoman Sue Glick said.

"He was a good, solid citizen that you hate to lose," Glick said. She had known Cobbs for more than 25 years.

Services will be set through Hutchins Funeral Home in Wolcottville.

Drugs, alcohol found in fatality

6 died in collision Oct. 24 near Butler

BY BILL GISEL

billg@kpcnews.net

AUBURN — A Butler driver had been drinking and using marijuana before a crash that killed six people Oct. 24 near Butler, according to DeKalb County Sheriff John Dennis.

Ing

Daniel Ing, 24, of Butler, tested positive for THC — an indicator of marijuana use — and his blood-alcohol level was .195 percent, Dennis reported Thursday. The legal limit of intoxication is .08 percent.

Ing and five others died when a pickup truck he was driving crossed the center line and crashed head-on into a second pickup two miles west of Butler on U.S. 6.

Dennis said his department received toxicology reports on blood samples from all six people who died in the crash.

FATALITY: Charges could be pending against bars

FROM PAGE A1

Two passengers were killed in Ing's vehicle. Reports showed his mother, Nancy D. Raneri, 43, of Butler, had a blood-alcohol level of .289 percent, more than three times the legal limit for intoxication. Ruby D. Patrick, 47, of Butler, had the lowest level of blood alcohol at .062 percent.

Tests found no alcohol or drugs in the blood of three men who died in the other pickup. They were traveling home to Bremen after attending a sectional football game in Butler.

The three victims from the Bremen area were Casey D. Miller, 33, the driver; Carey F. Jones, 36; and Chad Beeson, 29, a Bremen Police officer.

Two other men from Bremen — Robert Coffel, 35, and George Filchak, 37 — suffered serious injuries. All five men were involved in high school athletics in some capacity.

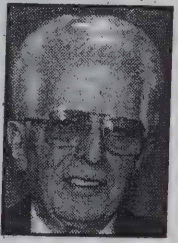
Businessman Robert Klinkenberg dies

BY BOB BRALEY

bobb@kpcnews.net

KENDALLVILLE — Longtime Kendallville businessman Robert "Bob" C. Klinkenberg, 90, died Thursday at Parkview Noble Hospital.



Klinkenberg

Klinkenberg was known around town for his family's downtown drug store and sporting goods store, which only had two owners in 112 years of operation — Klinkenberg and his father, Paul G. Klinkenberg.

Bob Klinkenberg first came into the business because it was a family operation, he said in a 2001 interview with The News-Sun. Then, in the Great Depression of the 1930s, he worked with his father to help hold down expenses.

Paul Klinkenberg sold drugs he made in the store. "Dad used to make a cough syrup called Klinkenberg's Cough Syrup," Bob Klinkenberg recalled in 2001.

After Paul Klinkenberg died, Bob took over the business. "I quit having prescriptions because he (Bob's father) was a pharmacist and I wasn't," Bob said in 2001.

In 1933, the landmark soda fountain was added. "We had a lot of kids come in after school. Most of them were pretty good," Klinkenberg said in 2001.

The store also sold lots of sporting goods, especially fishing tackle.

Among the other points of interest were the store's root beer barrel, ice cream freezer, wooden cash register and antique drug store items.

Klinkenberg worked the store part-time in his later years, until he was unable to continue following a 2000 auto accident.

Memorabilia from the store was auctioned in 2001 in one of the largest auctions not involving classic cars that the area has ever seen. Two rings operated at the Noble County Fairgrounds to sell memorabilia from the store.

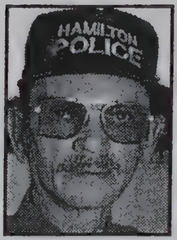
Mr. James remembered as loving, funny

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

HAMILTON — Joetta Hagerty remembers her father, Jimmy James, in a lot of different ways.

"He was funny," she said with a chuckle. "He was a prankster. He was outgoing, and he always had a smile on his face."

Jimmy L. James Sr., 61, of Hamilton died Saturday, Nov. 1, 2003, at his Hamilton home. He was a well-known face around town, as he served for many years as Hamilton town marshal.



Mr. James

"It was around 20 years," said Joetta. "I believe he was marshal from 1977 to 1996."

Mr. James was also a U.S. Air Force veteran. He was a member of the American Legion, Hamilton Fish and Game and the Wabash Eagles.

He married Joanna M. James on May 23, 1983, in Fremont, and she survives.

Mr. James is also survived by two sons, Eric and Jimmy. He also had another daughter, Jeni Palmerton. He was the grandfather of two and the great-grandfather of one.

Mr. James had fought a long battle with emphysema, Joetta said. His health had been in decline since a car accident on the outskirts of Hamilton in 1995.

Joetta said if people remember one thing about he father, she wants it to be wha a caring person he was.

"He loved his family," she said. "He loved his friends and his job."

Homemaker, flower grower made friends for life

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

AUBURN — Ilene Sliger would nearly wear out the piano at Christmas, playing "O Holy Night" for her husband.

Hymns were but one of the many loves of Mrs. Sliger, 69, who died Oct. 11 at her home after a four-year battle with cancer.

She loved flowers and gardening, wintering in Florida and children. Also, Christmas cards and her church, the Pleasant Lake United Methodist Church, and all the people there.

And, her husband, whom she met at a meeting of the DeKalb County Rural Youth Club.

Her dislikes were fewer: Seeing animals or people (especially children) being abused was one, and two special words were others.

Mrs. Sliger

"One word, of course, was cancer, and the other was computer. She didn't want to have anything to do with computers," explained Karl, her husband and companion of nearly 44 years.

Ilene was well known for her flowers. She had served 10 years as chairman of the DeKalb County Fair's flower department, her husband said. She was a 40-year member of the DeKalb County Home Demonstration Club and of the Farm Bureau.

"Ilene was first and foremost a homemaker," Karl related. "When people would ask her where she lived, and she would tell them, they would say, 'Oh, you are the people with all the pretty flowers.' "

She had many friends, Karl noted, "from New York to San Diego and from Seattle to Miami, and all the points in between," he remembered with pride.

More than 500 people paid their respects to Ilene at the Thomas Funeral Home at Garrett and at the First Church of Christ for her funeral.

"It was beyond my wildest imagination that so many people came," Karl said. "When Ilene made a friend, it was for life. Some of them go back to grade school."

While the Sligers had no children, Ilene loved children.

"She had many little friends that she loved dearly," Karl said.

Ilene retired in 1982 from a professional career that started as soon as she graduated from high school.

"She graduated on a Friday and went to work on Monday," Karl recalled. Her last job was as a legal secretary for Kruse and Kruse, a job she held for 10 years.

She was also Karl's partner in their farming operation east of Auburn.

"If I wasn't gone working on the railroad, you can bet we were working together. She was my secretary and my chauffeur," he joked.

She also helped Karl with the annual reunions of his Korean War army unit, Company E of the 38th Infantry Regiment.

Man dies from injuries from Friday crash

BY DENNIS NARTKER

dennisn@kpcnews.net

KENDALLVILLE — A rural Kendallville man has died from injuries received in a traffic accident Friday morning at U.S. 6 East and Allen Chapel Road.

Williard G. Vorbau, 92, of 351 N. Allen Chapel Road, died at 5:45 p.m. at Parkview Hospital, Fort Wayne.

Vorbau was a passenger in a Noble County Council on Aging 2003 Chevrolet van driven by Jimmy L. Robbins, 66, of Wawaka.

At about 7:16 a.m. the van was northbound on Allen Chapel Road approaching the intersection.

Robbins told police the traffic was green. When the van entered the intersection it was struck on the passenger side of a westbound Ford Taurus, driven by Tyson Eminger, 23, of Wawaka.

Eminger told police he believed the traffic light was green for his direction of travel. He also told police he looked at the light after the accident and saw it was red for east and west traffic on U.S. 6.

A witness told police she was eastbound on U.S. 6 East and stopped for the red traffic signal when the Ford Taurus entered the intersection without attempting to slow or stop.

The witness told police the light was red for the Ford Taurus, according to a police accident report.

Vorbau was sitting in the front passenger seat of the van when it was broadsided by the Ford Taurus.

Vorbau was taken to Parkview Noble Hospital in Kendallville then airlifted to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne where he died.

Eminger complained of pain to his neck following the collision but was not hospitalized.

Total damage was estimated at $5,000 to $10,000.

Kendallville Firefighters and first responders, Noble County EMS and Noble County Sheriff's Department units assisted Kendallville police at the scene.

The accident remains under investigation.

Martin Heller put soul into life

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

AVILLA — The people of this small community who knew Martin Heller — and they are many in number — are unanimous in their remembrances of him: He was a nice man who is greatly missed.

Mr. Heller died Oct. 30 at Provena Sacred Heart Home, at the age of 88.

Martin and his wife, Marie, had 56 years of building friendships in Avilla. Originally from Nebraska, they fled the Dust Bowl in the late 1930s and moved to California. Mr. Heller worked in a tile factory and was a ship welder during the war, helping to build icebreakers for the Navy.

With relatives who hailed from the Hoosier state, Martin and his wife moved to Avilla, where they farmed for a number of years before Martin went to work for Burtzner and Wilhelm Sand and Gravel, from which he retired in 1987.

Both Hellers volunteered at the Immanuel Lutheran Day Care since its founding seven years ago; Marie as the cook and Martin as the guy who did anything that needed to be done.

"He was grandpa to all the kids," Marie said of her husband of more than 68 years. She was speaking of the children of the day care center, but they had 13 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren, a legacy of their five children.

Mr. Heller.

Immanuel Lutheran Church secretary Kathryn Graves said Martin was someone "who put his heart and soul into everything he did. He lived a good Christian life and was one of those rare people who could 'walk the walk' and well as 'talk the talk,'" she said.

Graves said that Martin would visit her in the church office every day that she worked, taking a break from day care duties to sit and talk.

"Now, that chair just sits there, empty," Graves said. "He is really missed, that is for sure."

Mrs. Heller said her husband was an outgoing man who loved to "visit" and made a lot of friends over the years. He also loved gardening and woodworking, and for many years was sexton of the Immanuel Lutheran Cemetery in Avilla .

Martin was well-known at the Country Kitchen, where he would drink coffee with friends such as Joe Duehmig, Ivan Dressler, Jack Beaver and Dave Luttman.

He always left a quarter tip, which he called "a golden quarter," according to waitress Becky Gilbert. She recalled the first time she served Martin coffee and put a stir stick in his mug.

"He flipped it at me, and said 'No stir stick!'" Gilbert said. "He was a big old teddy bear and liked to have fun."

Sue Bremer, owner of the County Kitchen and Becky's mother, recalled that Mr. Heller "really perked up" when the day care was started and he started working there. She said he never ate much at her restaurant, however: "His wife is too good a cook," she pointed out.

According to Bremer, Martin never had anything bad to say about anyone. "He was a God-fearing jokester and he would torment the heck out of the kids who came in here," she said.

Her friend also never complained, she said. During his last visits, before he went to Provena Sacred Heart Home, Bremer would ask how he was doing.

"He always said, 'I'm doing the best I can,' " Bremer said. "He never complained."

Mrs. Sattison made life fun for kids

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

PLEASANT LAKE — Life with Bertha Sattison as a mother was an adventure.

"We used to go mushrooming," Mrs. Sattison's daughter, Ginny Stroh, remembered. "My dad was a race car driver, too, and we'd spend all our weekends at the races. We also did primitive camping ... she'd get all dressed up and we'd go out and spend the night in the woods."

Mrs. Sattison, 67, died Wednesday, Nov. 12, 2003, in Pleasant Lake.

When her children grew up and she became a grandmother, Mrs. Sattison relished that role.

"She was a very loving grandmother," Ginny said. "She spent a lot of time with her grandchildren."

Mrs. Sattison

About two years ago, Mrs. Sattison began to suffer the effects of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. She lived on her own until days before her death, and passed away the home of Ginny and Ginny's husband Tracy in Pleasant Lake.

But although she had difficulty breathing and didn't often feel well because of her illness, Ginny said she never dwelled on the fact that she was sick and she remained in good spirits.

"She was that kind of person," Ginny said.

Mrs. Sattison was married for 43 years to William Lee Sattison, who died on June 5, 1994. The couple had three children, Ginny and her brothers, William and Terry. They were the grandparents of five and the great-grandparents of 11.

During her life, she worked in factories. She had also formerly owned a restaurant in Pleasant Lake, and had worked at the Pleasant Lake Village Mart.

As her health began to decline, she spent her days busy with new pursuits such as crafts and puzzles.

"She was a good lady," Ginny said. "She really was. She was fun."

Walker dies on U.S. 6

KENDALLVILLE — A Kendallville woman attempting to cross U.S. 6 near the S.R. 9 north junction was killed at approximately 5:40 p.m. Tuesday when she was struck by an eastbound van, according to the Indiana State Police.

Michelle Treesh, 37, died of blunt force trauma to the head, chest and abdomen. The driver of the van, Victor Nantz, 68, of Rome City was not injured.

According to Indiana State Trooper Ron Galaviz, Treesh and her fiance had parked on the north side of the road, across from her home. She attempted to cross the roadway back to her home and was struck.

Galaviz said he did not know why the couple had parked on the north side of the road instead of in their own driveway.

There were two other incidents which resulted in fatalities Tuesday evening. A 40-year-old Angola man died in a one-vehicle crash on C.R. 100N, east of C.R. 475E.

Robert B. Straw was pronounced dead at the scene of multiple blunt force trauma, a report from the Steuben County Sheriff's Department said. The crash happened at about 7:48 p.m.

The report said Straw was driving westbound in a 2002 Ford pickup truck on C.R.100 N, and was approaching a set of curves east of C.R. 475E. Straw drove off the left side of the road as he was entering a right-hand curve, and his truck struck a tree broadside on the driver's side door.

Straw was dead when the first emergency units arrived, the report said. The crash is still under investigation, but as of this morning, it is not believed that alcohol was a factor.

In another Tuesday crash, two Fort Wayne women lost their lives, a report from the Indiana State Police said. The accident occurred at about 6 p.m. on Bass Road in Allen County just east of Eme Road.

Killed were Debra S. Tester, 50, and Gertrude H. Bradford, 43. The report said Tester was traveling westbound on Bass Road, Bradford eastbound, and their vehicles appear to have collided head-on.

Historian learned lessons from the past

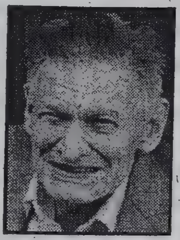
BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

LAGRANGE — When Noble County historian Bob Gagen interviewed J. Scott McKibben for a profile in the Mature Living supplement to this newspaper a decade or more ago, he found an exceptional man.

"He was a man with an understandable affection for where he was born and raised," Gagen recalls of McKibben, who was the first president of the LaGrange County Historical Society.

Mr. McKibben died Friday, Oct. 31, 2003, at Miller's Merry Manor of LaGrange, two years short of being a centenarian.

Gagen said living so long in the same place gave Mr. McKibben an advantage that accentuated his work as a historian. "He accumulated a massive historical collection of books, photographs, maps and other items — an unmatched library," Gagen said. "In addition, he had a barn full of collected items, including implements and machinery."



Mr. McKibben

"Our family has lost a great storyteller and teacher," noted his children, John Scott McKibben, Patrica Ann Evans and Nancy Dey Stark, in a written biography of their parents.

Mr. McKibben was born on the family homestead in Valentine in 1905. He attended grade school in a brick schoolhouse on the family farm and graduated from LaGrange High School in 1923. He went on to attend and graduate from Purdue University's electrical engineering school.

Having worked in his father's Valentine car dealership, he went to work for the Graham Paige Motor Car Co. in Detroit. Until his death, he had been the only surviving engineer from that vintage car company.

Bothered by asthma, he gave up his career in manufacturing and returned to Valentine in 1948, taking over the operation of the family farm.

Mr. McKibben became active in his county, serving as a county councilman and soil conservation supervisor. He also had an interest in Republican politics, and he would be awarded the state's highest honor, the Sagamore of the Wabash, in 1983.

He told a News-Sun reporter that year that the activity closest to his heart was his work as a historian.

"I was always interested in history, and was influenced by my two uncles who took an interest in the family's genealogy," he said. His uncle, Arthur Scott of Ontario (LaGrange County), helped form the Northeastern Indiana Historical Society, which Mr. McKibben later joined.

He was officially named LaGrange County historian in 1981 by the Indiana Historical Society after helping to form the LaGrange County Historical Society in 1966.

According to Mr. McKibben, history is important because people learn from the experience of the past.

"I still learn something new each day" that he did research, he said.

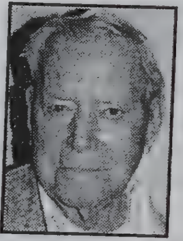
Mr. Hettema was gentle man, great storytelle

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — Susan Babcock described her stepfather, Art Hettema, as "a wonderful storyteller."

And he had a lot of stories to tell. Mr. Hettema, 94, who died Tuesday, Nov. 18, 2003, was the oldest living U.S. member of the World War II Underwater Demolition Teams (UDTs), which were charged with clearing a safe path for the landing crafts. He was a veteran of the U.S. Navy, where he was a chief petty officer and was decorated with a bronze star.

UDTs were six-man teams equipped with little more than a flotation device, mask and fins who swam to the dangerous masses with fuses and explosive compounds. They then wired and detonated them for the incoming crafts.



Mr. Hettema

"You get hung up with your landing craft, you're a dead duck," Mr. Hettema said in a 1999 interview for The Evening Star.

Mr. Hettema enlisted in the Navy in 1943 at age 35. A Tri-State University-trained civil engineer, he was trained with a battalion to go to the Pacific islands on details to repair air fields and build barracks.

He got a chance for more action when he volunteered for mine disposal school in Washington, D.C., that same year. A month later found him in Fort Pierce, Fla., for amphibious training. The entire perimeter of North Hutchison Island was set up with training obstacles as a practice field.

Rigorous training went on day and night for a month.

"We swam a mile before lunch daily, on a triangle course in the ocean," he said during the 1999 interview. "We had obstacles maneuvers in the afternoon and more swimming at night, at least a mile or two."

Mr. Hettema was born Feb. 7, 1909, in Passiac, N.J. He was married to M. Adeline Hughes for 52 years before she preceded him in death in 1990. Susan was 4 years ol when her mother and stepfa ther married.

"He was a very active ma and a hard worker," Susan said. "He was a wonderful guy and he lived a wonderfu life. He was easy … my mo was the one who had to do a the spanking."

Susan said her parents did a lot of traveling.

"They went on cruises, to Alaska, to England and Belgium," she said. "You name it, they probably went there. They just had a great time together."

Mr. Hettema was active in his community as well. He was a member of the Presbyterian Chapel of the Lakes, a 57-year member of the Elks Lodge and a member of the Carpenters Union No. 1935.

Rolena Collinsworth

3-year-old boy gave others lasting joy

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

WHITESTOWN — "What do you write in a tribute of a small boy who had not quite three years to make his mark on the world?"

That is the question Lucille Miller of Waterloo, who still shows her grief over the death of her great-nephew, Curtis John Stafford, asks — and maybe has answered.

"Curtis inspired many people to extend themselves on his behalf, and perhaps that is his contribution," Miller believes.

Curtis died Nov. 13 at Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis. His father, Jon Stafford, is a DeKalb High School graduate from Waterloo who, with Curtis' mother, Michelle, now lives in Whitestown near Indianapolis. Curtis also is survived by a brother, Ben, and sister, Elise.

Curtis John Stafford

Born three years ago today with a major heart defect, Curtis endured three major heart surgeries, Miller related.

"Despite questionable odds and setbacks, Curtis thrived and grew into a vibrant little boy," she said. "He delighted everyone with his bright and loving manner and good humor.

"Even during his last hospital stay, with a tube inserted in his chest, he was impatient to get to the playroom and play with the toys," Miller reported. Fragile on the inside, Curtis was all boy on the outside, she said.

Miller said Curtis' parents were careful to foster his independence while keeping a cautious eye on his overall health. His older sister and brother were well-versed in the rules of cleanliness and risks of infection and willingly sacrificed for their brother's well-being, Miller said.

Curtis' periodic hospital stays rallied many people to support him and his family, Miller said. His grandparents came from Waterloo and Crawfordsville to stay with Ben and Elise, and his church community prayed, brought food and even spent nights in the hospital supporting Jon and Michelle, she said.

"Curtis charmed and delighted family, friends and caregivers," Miller noted. At the hospital, the doctors and nurses were his greatest fans, and he was much loved, she said.

"His sweetness was well balanced with childish exuberance and an impish nature. He embodied love and life albeit briefly. There will long be a deep sadness that his stay was so short," Miller said, "but the joy he gave so many people will last forever."

Literally hundreds of people came to the boy's funeral, Miller said.

"I have never been to a funeral so large and with so many people," she recalled.

The Scripture around which the service was conducted was from Isaiah 11:6: "and a little child shall lead them," Miller said.

There are those who would say that he still does.

Mrs. Abrahamer remembered as caring

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — Lauretta Abrahamer was one of the first people to break ground at Cameron Woods Assisted Living Community on Nov. 17, 1998, and she was one of the first people to live there when the facility opened in November 1999.

"She was a great lady," said Amy Oberlin, a family friend who had known Mrs. Abrahamer for many years. "She was very caring. She loved her family and her friends, and she was very aware of what was going on in her community."

Lauretta B. Abrahamer, 89, died Wednesday, Dec. 3, 2003, at Lakeland Nursing Center, Angola. When she went to live at Lakeland a couple of months ago, she intended for it to be a temporary thing, and thought she would go back home to Cameron Woods.

She was born May 6, 1914, in Defiance, Ohio, to Edwin and Dora (Wolfrum) Boehm. She married Mandel R. "Abie" Abrahamer on Sept. 23, 1943. He preceded her in death on Feb. 1, 1993.

Mrs. Abrahamer

Mrs. Abrahamer was a registered nurse. She and her husband previously owned the Sunset Inn and Pizza Mart in Angola.

"She was one of our originals," said Erika Sanborn, director of Cameron Woods. "She was a very interesting woman, and she had a lot of experience in the restaurant business. She would help us out from time to time with suggestions about the dining room."

Ann Puthoff, Mrs. Abrahamer's niece, said she "was very close" to her aunt. "She was well-loved," Puthoff said.

Carbon monoxide blamed in death of 7-year-old girl

NEWS-SUN STAFF REPORTS

LIGONIER — A 7-year-old Wawaka girl died Sunday after apparently being overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning at her grandmother's home.

The victim was Caitlyn Halferty, a second-grade student at Ligonier Elementary School, according to the Noble County Coroner's Office.

There were three other people overcome by what is believed to be carbon monoxide in the home in the 500 block of North Cavin Street in Ligonier, according to Ligonier Fire Chief Paul Pfenning.

The Ligonier Fire Department responded to the home after being notified by the Noble County Sheriff's Department communications center, which received a 911 call of an unconscious person at about 7 p.m. Sunday, according to a press release issued by the Ligonier Fire Department.

Halferty

Pfenning could not release any information on the condition of the three survivors of the incident, other than to say they were in the hospital. The victim and the other three people were taken to Parkview Noble Hospital.

Pfenning said he did not have any additional information because the incident that led to the girl's death is under investigation.

DEATH: Incident under investigation by authorities

Teachers and staff at Ligonier Elementary School were in shock this morning over the tragedy, as they coped with how to inform Halferty's classmates.

All second- and third-graders at the school were scheduled to attend a play at East Noble High School in Kendallville today and school officials kept those plans in place.

Halferty's classmates were going to be informed of her death when they returned to their school after they play. The West Noble School Corp. has a full-time counselor for elementary school children and she was going to be in the classroom when the children were told.

"It's a terrible tragedy," said Brian Shepherd, principal at Ligonier Elementary. "Caitlyn was a very friendly, outgoing little girl."

The incident is under investigation by the Ligonier Police Department, the Indiana State Fire Marshal's Office and the Noble County Coroner's Office.

The home where the incident took place is an older brick structure on the city's northside. There is a beauty salon in the front and a residence in the back.

Funeral arrangements for Halferty are pending at Orr Funeral Home, Ligonier.

Police await autopsy on girl

BY BOB BUTTGEN
leader@ligtel.com

LIGONIER — There are still more questions than answers as investigators try to confirm the exact cause of death of a 7-year-old Wawaka girl who was found dead Sunday at her grandmother's home in Ligonier.

Caitlyn Halferty died from what appears to be carbon monoxide poisoning.

"It's still believed that carbon monoxide was a strong factor in this girl's death, but that can't be confirmed until we get the results of the autopsy," said Det. Gary Cox of the Ligonier Police Department. "But we're still investigating."

Three other people in the home, including the victim's father, paternal grandmother and stepsister, were taken to the hospital after they were found in the Ligonier residence at about 7 p.m. Sunday by the victim's mother.

The stepsister has been released from Parkview Noble Hospital, but the grandmother and father are still being treated at the hospital.

Cox said his investigation will focus on the source of the carbon monoxide. In most cases, the poisonous gas is caused by a malfunctioning furnace or other appliance, he said.

One option in the investigation is to bring in an expert in heating systems to examine the appliances in the home, Cox said. "We're looking at different avenues to help us," he added.

Meanwhile, Caitlyn's mother, Cindy Whitton of Wawaka, said today she is setting up a memorial fund in her daughter's honor, and she wants donations used to purchase carbon monoxide detectors.

"I don't want this to happen to anyone else again," Whitton said this morning. "We need to stress the importance of having these detectors in every home."

Whitton said she would be dealing with a local bank to set up the fund, and then working with local fire departments to distribute the detectors.

A full obituary for Caitlyn Halferty appears on Page A6.

Toddler was ‘the sweetest little guy

BY JAMIE LEMKE-BARRAND
jamiel@kpcnews.net

ANGOLA — He was his family’s “Chubby Bubby,” a friendly, inquisitive baby with wide eyes and a ready smile who was full of life.

But Logan Michael Zimmerman’s life was tragically cut short by a near-drowning on Nov. 11, 2002, in a pool at his home. Logan, 3, died on Wednesday, Dec. 10, 2003, at Wabash County Hospital.

Logan was the son of Samantha Zimmerman.

Logan Zimmerman

In an interview conducted shortly after Logan’s accident, Keri Richter, the daughter of Logan’s grandfather’s significant other, said Logan was in a “vegetative state.” He was on a tracheotomy tube and feeding tube, and although the prognosis was grim from the beginning, Logan’s family never gave up hope and visited often.

“It was devastating to see this happen to a little boy that was healthy and normal and had a bright future ahead of him,” she said. “In my opinion, he was pretty advanced and really smart for his age. He was always around adults, so he was quite mature.”

Keri said Logan was “all boy.” She described him soft-spoken and full of l and said he enjoyed family’s pet cockatiels watching the fish in the f tank. He loved to be outs and watch birds at the b feeder, and he liked trucks.

“He was loving,” K said. “He liked to cuddle, liked to play. He was alwa busy and easy to amuse. was the sweetest little g you’ve ever seen in yo life.”

DeCamp became voice of Purdue sports

BY BILL GISEL
billg@kpcnews.net

KENDALLVILLE — With the passing Dec. 5 of John R. DeCamp, 82, Purdue University lost one of its more famous alumni.

And Tom Imes of Kendallville lost a good friend.

Both men were 1938 graduates of Kendallville High School. Mr. DeCamp became known as the voice of Purdue football and basketball, broadcasting those games for 43 years on the university's public radio station, WBAA; Imes went to war and came home to raise a family and farm.

"I first met John as a freshman in high school," Imes recalled. "We both went to Purdue and we would travel back and forth together and we got to be good friends."

Over the years, they would get together after football and basketball games Imes attended. When Imes' daughter, Cindy, went to Purdue from the last graduating class of Kendallville High School (1966), Mr. DeCamp "sort of took her under his wing," Imes said. "John did all he possibly could to help her."

Most recent memory for Imes is of Mr. DeCamp giving a Gene Keady autographed basketball to Cindy's daughter, he related.

"He was just a perfect gentleman," Imes said.

Also a 1938 classmate, Joe Berhalter of Kendallville remembered Mr. DeCamp as "one of the smartest guys in school.

"He was very likable and just an awful nice guy," Berhalter said. "He was a planner and not a follower."

Mr. DeCamp told an interviewer in 1981 that his boyhood experiences exposed him to the world of journalism. He was a carrier for The News-Sun and bragged of having "the second-largest route in the county."

In high school, he was on the staff of The Spotlight, the school newspaper, and editor of Kay Aitch Ess, the school annual. He was also president of the Kodak photography club.

Starting as a student broadcaster at Purdue, Mr. DeCamp went on to be chief announcer, sports director and eventually station manager of WBAA, which became the flagship station of the Purdue Sports Radio Network. He finished his career as director of public relations and promotions for intercollegiate athletics, retiring in 1986.

Mr. DeCamp was a part of the Indianapolis 500 Radio Network team for 22 years, was named Top Broadcaster of the Year in 1971 and inducted into the Indiana Journalism Hall of Fame in 1974.

Following the renovation of Ross-Ade Stadium, the new radio booth was named in honor of John DeCamp. Chris Schenkel, another Purdue graduate who worked with Mr. DeCamp at WBAA before going on to a career of his own with ABC Sports, said:

"His style and the way he brought the event to you were something special. I am pleased that the university is doing this for John."

Morgan Burke, left, Purdue's director of intercollegiate athletics, shakes hands with John DeCamp, known as the "Voice of Purdue" for his 43 years of radio broadcasting of Boilermaker football games, in this photo taken Sept. 23. The radio booth in Ross-Ade Stadium's new pavilion is being named for DeCamp. A student-assistance fund for student broadcasters also is being established in his name. Mr. DeCamp, a Kendallville native, died Dec. 5; he was 82.

A colleague noted Mr. DeCamp's dedication also went to the young employees and students with whom he worked.

"Always ready to teach with a word of advice or an enlightening anecdote from his varied experiences behind the microphone, John served as a mentor and role model to many people, including C-SPAN founder Brian Lamb, ABC's Schenkel, and the current voices of Boilermaker football, Joe McConnell and Tim Newton," said Morgan Burke, director of intercollegiate athletics at Purdue.

The John Purdue Club, of which Mr. DeCamp was a member, has established an endowment to honor Mr. DeCamp's career.

At the time of the establishment of the endowment, Mr. DeCamp said:

"I can't think of any way I would rather be remembered than to have upcoming play-by-play announcers benefit from my career. Hopefully, this fund will assist some young people achieve their dreams, as I was able to achieve mine."

Mother turning tragedy into memorial

BY JULIE BUTTGEN
leader@ligtel.com

The unexpected death of 7-year-old Caitlyn Marie Halferty on Dec. 7 of carbon monoxide poisoning has left an unimaginable void in the life of her mother, Cindy Whitton.

But Whitton hopes to turn this tragedy into something positive by creating a memorial fund that will assist families with the purchase of carbon monoxide detectors. "I don't want to see another family go through this," Whitton said.

Caitlyn Halferty

"She was my little munchkin," Whitton explained, referring to her daughter's performance as a munchkin in West Noble High School's production of the "Wizard of Oz" last month.

Whitton spoke about her love for her daughter during a telephone conversation from her mother's home in Remington, Ind., where Caitlyn was laid to rest on Dec. 12, next to her grandfather, Doyle Whitton, who died Nov. 17.

"They were very close," Whitton said of her father and Caitlyn's relationship. "I like to think that her grandfathers are up in heaven with her, taking turns keeping an eye on her." Caitlyn's other grandfathers were Edward Halferty and Walt Rex.

Caitlyn was a second-grader at Ligonier Elementary School. Her teacher, Christy Hofmeister, is also noticing her absence. "Caitlyn always came up and gave me a hug and it was a real hug — she held you hard. She really showed that she cared for me and her classmates."

"She was smart, too," Hofmeister added. "Her writing was great. I would ask the students to write a few sentences about a subject and she would just write and write. Sometimes it would be two or three pages.

"I enjoyed having her here in my class and I really miss her. Every kid in my class has something special to offer but I've noticed that I am really missing that contact with her because she was so caring."

Caitlyn also attended West Noble Day Care Center as a preschooler and went there for before- and after-school programs. "We are glad to have had Caitlyn as a student for the five and a half years she went here," said director Becky Ulbright. "She was a bright spot for us."

Caitlyn was energetic, active and always busy. In her short life, she was active in Perry Township's Busy Bees Mini 4-H Club; Kimmell girls' softball league; West Noble High School girls' basketball clinics; Ligonier Recreation Center sports youth bowling; Vacation Bible School a Ligonier United Methodist Church Ligonier Public Library summer reading programs and New DAWN.

One thing Caitlyn also loved was swimming. This past summer, Whitton's Wawaka neighbors, Mary and Don Bish, allowed Caitlyn and her mother to swim in their pool often. "Of all the stuff she did in her short life, I think she loved the swimming most," Whitton added.

Caitlyn's mother believes she is fortunate because of the closeness she and Caitlyn had. "My daughter was not stingy with her love," Whitton said. "I knew she honestly loved me. She had a very kind and loving heart."

Whitton also has a message for parents who sometimes feel pestered by their kids. "I'm telling you," she said, "Spend as much time with them as you can. Appreciate every 'I love you, Mommy' you hear from them because you never know when your life is going to change in a flash. Something you love more than anything can be taken away from you just like that."

Anyone wishing to make a monetary contribution to the Caitlyn Halferty Memorial fund for carbon monoxide detectors can do so through Ligonier United Methodist Church, 466 Townline Road, Ligonier, IN 46767.

Middle schooler dies

Kendallville boy, 13, fell from bridge in visit to Ohio

BY MEGAN HOCKLEY
meganh@kpcnews.net

TIFFIN, Ohio — An eighth-grade student at Kendallville Middle School died in Ohio Sunday.

The body of Scooter Neff, 13, was recovered from the Sandusky River early Sunday morning. Autopsy results indicate that the primary cause of death was a blow to the head, according to Police Chief Dave LaGrange of the Tiffin Police Department.

Neff

According to LaGrange, Neff and another 13-year-old boy were walking in Tiffin along a railroad bridge above the river. At around 1 a.m. Sunday, the boys dropped the barrel of a paintball gun on the tracks. While trying to find the barrel in the dark, Neff slipped and fell to the river below.

The overpass is a dangerous place, according to LaGrange, who said trains travel along those tracks at about 40 miles per hour.

"That overpass up there is definitely not for pedestrians," LaGrange said. "I don't know how he got up there."

Neff sustained a significant head injury in his fall. It is believed he died immediately. LaGrange said it is unknown whether Neff's head struck something on the way down or hit the rocks that lie at the bottom of the river, which is only waist-deep.

When Neff fell, his companion allegedly jumped into the river to try to save him. He then crawled out of the river and went to the nearest house to call 911. The call came in at 1:17 a.m.

Tiffin Fire & Rescue and the Tiffin Police Department responded to the scene, prepared for a full search-and-rescue operation, but found Neff already dead, lying in the water one-half mile north of where he fell.

According to LaGrange, a chaplain from the Seneca County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene to comfort Neff's family members.

Kendallville Middle School principal Jim Taylor said the school will address Neff's death with students after Christmas vacation is over. Counselors will be on hand.

Taylor said Neff was having a good year at school, improving academically and having fun with a small circle of friends.

"It's always devastating to see a young person's life taken away," Taylor said. "You think of all the things they won't get to experience or get to go through."

Rescuers cut apart this Chevrolet Lumina to free Bryan Young, 20, of Butler after a head-on collision Tuesday night. He died in spite of emergency crews' efforts.

Crash kills 2

BY DAVE KURTZ
dkurtz@kpcnews.net

WATERLOO — Two drivers died in a head-on crash Tuesday night on DeKalb C.R. 27, about one-halb mile south of U.S. 6.

The 6:47 p.m. collision instantly killed Dana D. Kyle, 49, of the 300 block of Betz Road, Auburn. He was driving a 1993 Chevrolet S-10 4x4 pickup truck southbound.

Kyle's truck collided with a 1993 Chevy Lumina driven by Bryan K. Young, 20, of the 100 block of South Park Lane, Butler. Young died after the crash.

Waterloo and Corunna firefighters spent about 30 minutes freeing Young from the wreckage of his car. A Samaritan helicopter flew him to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne, but rescuers could not save his life.

Young was traveling northbound and passing two cars on an uphill grade, ignoring a yellow no-passing line, said DeKalb County Sheriff John Dennis. Young's Lumina slammed head-on into Kyle's pickup at the crest of the hill.

"It's enough of a hillcrest that apparently the northbound driver that was passing didn't see the pickup and the pickup driver didn't see the car, either," Dennis said. "There was some braking, but it was all too late."

The pickup spun around into the west ditch, the force of the impact tearing its cargo bed from the truck's twisted frame. Dennis said Kyle was wearing a seat belt, but his truck did not have an airbag. He died from head and chest injuries.

CRASH: Fatalities are 16th and 17th this year in county

FROM PAGE A1

Young's car spun 180 degrees after the crash and stopped in the southbound lane. The sheriff said Young also was wearing a seat belt but had no airbag. He died from head injuries along with injuries to his chest, pelvis and legs.

The crash happened at 6:47 p.m.

After the head-on impact, Young's car caromed into a Dodge van that he was passing. The van's driver, James A. Depew, 65, of the 2800 block of C.R. 56, Auburn, suffered injuries to his right shoulder but declined medical treatment, Dennis said.

The other vehicle Young had passed was not involved in the crash, the sheriff said. Each of the four vehicles had only one occupant.

Waterloo and Corunna firefighters responded to the crash scene along with DeKalb EMS medics, DeKalb County Police and Indiana State Police officers.

The Samaritan Air Ambulance landed in the parking lot of the Waterloo Freewill Baptist Church, south of the crash site. The scene is two miles directly east of Waterloo on a hilly road also known as the Auburn-Ashley Road.

The victims were the 16th and 17th people to die in traffic accidents this year in DeKalb County — an all-time high according to Dennis.

Paul Muller

CHURUBUSCO – Paul C. Muller, 78, a resident of rural Churubusco, died Wednesday, December 24, 2003, at Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne. He had been in declining health for several months.

Mr. Muller was born in Fort Wayne on January 23, 1925, a son of Henry and Disa (Haag) Muller. He moved to the family farm in Green Township as a child with his parents in 1931 and graduated from Churubusco High School in 1943. As a young man, he served with the U.S. Navy during World War II and spent his entire lifetime on the same farm north of Churubusco.

A union electrician for most of his life, he retired in 1987 as a construction foreman for Morehead Electric Company in Fort Wayne after 14 years. Mr. Muller took great pride in caring for his home and farm buildings and was well-known as an expert woodworking craftsman.

He was married on July 19, 1970, to Lucille Imhof, and she preceded him in death on December 2, 1989.

He attended the Churubusco United Methodist Church and was a member of Churubusco Lodge 515 F & AM in Fort Wayne, Scottish Rite, Valley of Fort Wayne, Mizpah Shrine in Fort Wayne and had been a member of Union Local 305 since 1946.

In addition to his parents and wife, he was preceded in death by a daughter Cynthia Turner.

The surviving relatives include six grandchildren, Holly (Thomas) Mathis, Timothy A. Turner, Ruthan R. Turner, April Turner, Wendy Turner, and Austin J. Turner, all of Fort Wayne; and a cousin, Ruth (Kenneth) Leitch of Churubusco.

Services were held Monday, December 29, 2003, in the Churubusco United Methodist Church with the Rev. E. Vaughn Powell, pastor emeritus, officiating.

Interment was in the Eel River Cemetery, south of Churubusco, with military graveside rites by the U.S. Navy military detail.

For those who wish, memorials may be directed to the Churubusco United Methodist Church.

From the family of Larry Cory. It is with much gratitude we extend our sincere appreciation for those of you that lovingly embraced our family during the loss of our loved one. Your prayers, calls, visits, cards and flowers were a great comfort to us. May God continue to bless you all.

Carl Schott, Jr.

ALBION – Carl A. Schott, Jr., 69, of Albion, died Saturday, December 27, 2003, at Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne.

He was born January 28, 1934, in Elkhart County to Carl A. Schott, Sr, and Josephine (Hall) Cole.

Mr. Schott was a foreman for BRC Rubber Company in Ligonier, retiring in 1997 after over 40 years of service.

On January 17, 1953, he married Norma Straw in Garrett.

He was a 1952 graduate of Albion High School, and his hobbies included NASCAR, hunting, stamp and coin collecting.

He is survived by his wife, Norma of Kendallville; two daughters and one son-in-law, Linda Leitch of Wolf Lake and Teresa and Mark North of Cassopolis, MI; one son and daughter-in-law, Gary and Denise Schott of Albion; 11 grandchildren; six step-grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; 12 step-great-grandchildren; and one brother, Donald Schott of Chandler, AZ.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Services will be 1:00 p.m. Wednesday, December 31, 2003, at Brazzell Funeral Home in Albion, with the Rev. Steve Halsey officiating. Visitation is from 2:00 to 4:00 and 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday and also one hour prior to service on Wednesday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Rose Hill Cemetery in Albion.

For those who wish, memorials may be made to the Diabetes Foundation.

John Krieger

CHURUBUSCO – John A. Krieger, 68, widely-acquainted and revered resident of Churubusco, died Wednesday, December 24, 2003, at Parkview Whitley Hospital in Columbia City. He had been a patient there since November 25 after collapsing unexpectedly at his residence.

Mr. Krieger was born in Churubusco on April 23, 1935, a son of Cloyd N. "Pete" and Hazel H. (Hollenbeck) Krieger and was a lifelong resident of the Churubusco community. Born with Down's Syndrome, he lived with his family all of his life but was fondly known by the people of Churubusco as Churubusco's Favorite Son and All-Round Nice Guy. This love affair between John and his community led to an Associated Press article in 1999 about his life.

John assisted in many businesses in Churubusco throughout his life including the former Raypole's Standard Service and Floyd's Auto Sale. In later years, he assisted at Churubusco Super Valu, Diffendarfer's Body Shop, Shroyer's Variety & Hardware, Jones Insurance, Pit Stop Pizza, Churubusco News, Papa's Place, and Sheets & Childs Funeral Home. He was also a member and active participant at the Churubusco United Methodist Church.

Most dear to his heart was his close association with the Churubusco Volunteer Fire Department, Whitley County EMS Medic 21, Churubusco Police Department, and the Whitley County Sheriff's Department. He was also an avid fan of Purdue University basketball, and Chicago Cubs baseball.

The surviving relatives include a sister, Beverly Davis of Churubusco; and several nieces and nephews.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by a brother, Calvin Krieger; and by two sisters, Leila Conner and Phyllis Ferguson.

Services were held Sunday, December 28, 2003, at the Churubusco United Methodist Church, with the Revs. Christine Newman-Jacobs and E. Vaughn Powell officiating.

Interment was in the family plot at Eel River Cemetery, south of Churubusco.

For those who wish, memorials may be directed to the Churubusco Volunteer Fire Department, or Whitley County EMS Medic 21, Churubusco.
